Players can adopt pets in this version of The Game of Life game. The player with the most money at end of game wins! Close matchboard with spinner, 100 cards, 5 Spin to Win signs, 4 cars, 24 people pens, 12 pet pens, money pack, and game guide. • The Game of Life game is full of surprises! Choose a path for a life of action, adventure, and unexpected surprises • Take pets • Fun family game! Ages 8 and up • For 2 to players. • Adult Assembly Required. Grab your furry friends, animal lovers - The Game of Life welcomes pets to the classic game board. For the first time, fans are encouraged to grow their family with newly added cat and dogs as they move around the plate. Players can go to college, get married, have a family — and now, adopt a pet — as they see what happens when unexpected twists change the game. Once everyone reaches the end of the game upon retirement, everyone pays their debts and adds up their wealth. The player with the most money wins the game. Here are some more details on the gameplay experience: All players start with 1 car, a Spinning to win sign, 1 pink or blue pen, 1 pet pen and 200K. Cards are divided into 5 decks: House Cards, Action Cards, Career Cards, College Career Cards and Pet Cards. When you land on a pet space, you pull the top Cap card from the deck, read it out loud and do what it says. At the end of the game, this card will be worth money. There are 15 pet cards, which include different actions such as Pass Obedience School and Eat Homework. I have The New Game of Life for review purposes. We love to play games as a family. Board games are such classics that they always provide great entertainment for the whole family and provide good clean fun. Plus it's a good time to teach kids how to be good sports, be happy for those who win and also be gracious losers. Plus it builds family relationships. One of my favorites as a kid was The Game of Life. I want to get this game to add to our own family collection for some time, but for some reason, I just never got to it. What's new with the game of life gameplay features? Well, finally thanks to Hasbro, we now have the NEW of Life. And let me tell you it's a big hit with my kids! This is the first experience my sons have had with this game. It was a lot of fun to see the excitement of someone playing the Game of Life for the very Time. Like I said, it was a favorite of mine and I grew it up many times. But the New Game of Life has quite a bit different from the original game. First, setup is much easier and faster. It no longer takes 20 minutes just to get the game going. So that's a big improvement. I like the new design of the board and game actually goes a lot faster. And it's really simple for my sons to understand. Not to mention the rulesheet is much easier to breeze through, it's easier to find all the rules for each square, too. Plus, there are a lot fewer money options. Now everything is in the thousands with $10,000 being the lowest, then 50K, 100K and 500K. That's all. That means it's a lot easier to do all the math in the game. Everyone starts at $200K and before the game even you start deciding whether you're going to go the college route or just start having a job. If you go to college, you pay $100K before you even turn the wheel. So initially, my kids didn't want to go to college. But when they saw the difference in the payday prices of career vs college career work, they quickly changed their minds. I personally love the idea of how they use cards to choose the careers now. Now you all have an equal shot at getting the best paying career and don't have to worry about getting the exact number spin to land on the right square. There are also many more opportunities to get kids and homes in the New Game of Life than in the original as well. And a lot of fun action cards and more ways for everyone to get money throughout the game. And as I mentioned several times before, the game just goes a lot smoother and faster. So while the game still takes a good stretch of time to play, it doesn't take as long as the original game used to take. Although, we miss a few features of the original. Like just 4 people, the New Game of Life can play. Instead of 6. Right now, it's not too much of a problem because Miss Jade isn't old enough to play yet, but as she gets older, we all won't be able to play the game together because our family is too big. So I think it was a big mistake in the game changer. I'd like to see future versions go back to the 2-6 players option. And the cool mountain attachments to the plate are no longer part of the game. It's a silly feature to miss I know, but I miss the cool mountain passes. Also at the end, you no longer have to guess if you have to go to the Millionaire Mansion or not and pray that you have the most money otherwise you lose the game. It is now simply that the first person reaching the end gets the biggest cash bonus. With each subsequent play to pay a little less in bonus. To finish off the game; you turn into all the action cards you earn, sell your home/homes, and get cash for every child (yes to child tax The person with the most money wins! Super easy. And cash in the money is also much faster with the smaller option in bills. Although we found we often ran out of $10K bills and had to do a lot of cash in as the game progressed. NEW life the game instructions! For those looking for the instructions, I've found ours, and here are some close-up photos, so you can remember how to play too! But overall, our family absolutely loved playing the New Game of Life. This is a classic that is a great addition to every family board game collection! My sons ask to play it every weekend when we have time. And on the other Snow days or holidays when we don't have school. It's a hit and I think it will get a lot more game for some time to come. We already had to take it to the grandparent's house so the kids have to play it with the Grandparents. And if you follow us on Instagram; you've already seen it's a good match for all these SNOW Days with school cancelled. What a fun way to pass the time and enjoy the day together! We give Up The New Game of Life two thumbs up. The Game if Life is available for purchase at mass retail stores nationwide, on Amazon and from Hasbro. Be sure to want Hasbro Game Night on Facebook for more great Family Game night ideas! What do you love most about the Game of Life? What is your favorite memory while playing the game of life? What is the game of life is always full of adventures and surprises. Choose a path of action and adventure as well as experience unexpected surprises in this board game of life that is now pets. Yes, HASBRO celebrates pet ownership in their latest edition of their classic board game, 'The Game of Life Pets Edition'. In this game, which plays like the traditional game, players make their own exciting choices as they move through the twists and turns of life. Each player gets one car, one pink or blue pen, a pet pen and 200K. Players move their car sign around the game board from start to retirement, and experience unexpected adventures related to family, career, and other milestones of life. But new to this game is that players can now adopt pets in this version of The Game of Life game. The player with the most money at the end of the game wins. Each game includes a plate with spinner, 100 cards, 5 Spin to Win signs, 4 cars, 24 people pens, 12 pet pens, money suit, and game guide. Is it fun? We had a lot of fun with this family-friendly game. Truth be told, this is one of America's most iconic games and seems to have just turned better with time. Better now that it has pets. Enjoy the sound of the iconic spinner as choice and fate crossing. This game is a unique brand of imagination and adventure all wrapped up in a board game. Who it is for 'The Game of Life: Pets Edition' is recommended for ages 8 and up. That's for 2 to 4 players. We also recommend this game for anyone who loves especially classic board games with a new twist, and competitive play. This game is also perfect for anyone who loves exploring careers and dreaming big. What to be aware of it should also be noted that this game could run over minutes to an hour to play. Play.
